

COMPOSITION FOR USE AS A REINFORCING FILLER IN POLYMER COMPOSITIONS

Abstract of the Disclosure

The invention concerns a composition for use as reinforcing filler in polymer compositions, obtained by drying, in particular by atomization, of a suspension derived from a mixture of mineral or organic particles having a form factor less than 15 and a suspension of organic and mineral particles dispersible in a polymer medium. The invention also concerns polymer compositions comprising said filler and finished articles based on such compositions.